WINTER 2021 SINGLE SESSION COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

History of the Kamloops Heritage Railway

$10

The Kamloops Heritage Railway Society operates the 108-year-old steam engine 2141, the "Spirit of Kamloops" for the public, on behalf of the City of Kamloops. They offer SteamRailtours and maintain a museum and archives on the importance of rail to the history of Kamloops. This presentation will cover 1. History of the Railway, 2. History of the Restoration 3. The Society -- what it does now, how it is supported.

Instructor: Cory Clark

Min. 8 Max. 20

Dates: Wednesday February 10, 2021 10AM-12PM

Location: North Shore Community Centre – Oak/ Willow Room

Think Local, Act Local: Climate Action in Kamloops

$10

The 2019 Canada's Changing Climate Report minces no words: "Canada's climate has warmed and will warm further in the future, driven by human influence." Kamloops has had first-hand experience with the effects of widespread warming, including more extreme heat, less extreme cold, shorter snow and ice cover seasons, and earlier spring peak stream flow. This trend is expected to continue and may well be our 'new normal'. Glen Cheetham, Sustainability Services Supervisor with the City of Kamloops, will make a case for 'thinking local, acting local' as a means to catalyze climate action in our community. While outlining the urgency and need to have 'all hands-on deck,' the presentation will also highlight the City's Community Climate Action Plan that is in development, as well as consider some of the economic opportunities as we transition to a lower carbon future and tackle the greatest environmental challenge of our time.

Instructor: Glen Cheetham

Min. 8 Max. 20

Dates: Tuesday February 16, 2021 10AM-12 PM

Location: North Shore Community Centre – Oak/ Willow Room

Regenerative Agriculture

"To be truly wise is to search for what is coming to birth in an age of death, to search for what is beginning anew in an age when much seems to be ending." Herbert O'Driscoll"

This course will explore the principles of Regenerative Agriculture and its role in reversing climate change, increasing biodiversity and environmental health, while providing food security.

Instructor: Ron & Jennifer Sainte Marie

Min. 8 Max. 20

Dates: Tuesday February 23, 2021 1:30PM-3:30PM

Location: North Shore Community Centre – Oak/Willow Room

Travel Through Mongolia$10

Visit a land of nomads, eagle hunters and reindeer herders. A place of vast expanses of grasslands, singing sands and mountains. Experienced traveler, Helen Parkyn will take you through Mongolia from the Gobi desert, through the steppes to the Altai Mountains.

Instructor: Helen ParkynMin. 8 Max. 20*Dates: Wednesday February 24, 2021 1:30PM-3:30PMLocation: North Shore Community Centre – Oak/Willow Room

Aging Well - Prevent Your Risk of Falling$10

Do you worry about losing your independence due to a fall? This proactive workshop will teach you balance and strength exercises designed to reduce your fall risk. It will also help you to identify factors that contribute to falls.

Instructor: Emiko OhamaMin. 5 Max. 10*Dates: Monday March 1, 2021 1:30PM- 3:30PMLocation: Zoom Online

Printmaking$10

Printmaking: What is an original print, and is it art? This presentation will provide a brief overview of the origins of fine art printmaking such as Rembrandt and Goya produced. We will also briefly cover the origins and development of screen printing, which has become much more popular since the beginning of the 20th century. Recently there have been so many innovations in printmaking – water-based inks, photo-based emulsions, kitchen litho, collagraphs - that making prints is no longer as toxic and difficult, or as mysterious, as it once was.

Instructor: Ila CrawfordMin. 8 Max. 20*Dates: Tuesday March 2, 2021 10PM – 12PMLocation: North Shore Community Centre – Oak/ Willow Room

More than Just a Meal: A Deeper Dive into Food Security in Kamloops$10

The Kamloops Food Policy Council is the oldest independent food policy council in Canada, and is well-respected in the food security world. The two presenters will talk about the work of the food policy council, introduce some of the key issues around food security, and discuss the many different ways that people can contribute to our local food system. Fauve Garson will discuss her TRU Masters research project on the Kamloops Food System and share some of her early findings. There will be a short, fun, seed identification activity during the break, with the chance to win a small prize.

Instructor: Fauve Garson & Sandra FrangiadakisMin. 8 Max. 20*Dates: Wednesday March 3, 2021 10AM-12PMLocation: North Shore Community Centre – Oak/ Willow Room

A Whirlwind Tour of Mennonite History$10

Hurricane, earthquake, fire, flood—Mennonites are often among the first to help victims. Who are the Mennonites? The name refers to a Christian denomination started in Europe in the 1500s. Its teachings include loving one's neighbour; working for peace; not bearing arms; separation of church and state; and baptism of believing adults (not babies).

Over the years, Mennonites developed a way of life characterized by thrift, simplicity, practicality, and trust in God. Join Elma (Martens) Schemenauer's whirlwind tour to learn more about Mennonites' beliefs, foods, folkways, and journey through time.

Instructor: Elma SchemenauerMin. 8 Max. 20*Dates: Thursday March 4, 2021 1:30PM-3:30PMLocation: North Shore Community Centre – Oak/ Willow Room

Bumble Bees, Pollen Pants and Hairy Belly Bees$10

Did you know that there are almost 20,000 bee species in the world? And, British Columbia has the greatest diversity in North America with almost 500 species! This course will help you to classify our native bees into functional groups: bumble bees, honey bees, hairy belly bees (solitary cavity nesters) and pollen pants bees (solitary ground nesters).

Instructor: Elaine SedgmanMin. 10 Max. 30*Dates: Thursday March 4, 2021 10AM-11:30AMLocation: Zoom Online

One Health$10

"We just developed this wonderful drug – why isn't it working?" It is becoming increasingly evident that solutions or management of medical problems requires the collaboration and cooperation of many disciplines (including Veterinarians) - hence the idea of "One Health". As it is also very evident that "miracle cures" are few and far between, a holistic approach is crucial.

Instructor: Dr. David SedgmanMin. 8 Max. 20*Dates: Monday March 8, 2021 10AM-12PMLocation: Zoom Online

Kamloops Hospice - A "view" behind the scenes$10

Location: North Shore Community Centre- Oak/Willow Room

The Corkscrew Road

$10

The Corkscrew Road is both real and imaginary: real because it once ran between Kamloops and Knutsford; imaginary because so much of it has disappeared. This guided walk will lead you to a few abandoned sections of the Corkscrew Road. Along the way Ernie will share some of the stories and history he's discovered. Today the road exists in a strange limbo between remembering and forgetting, an in-between state that allows for both historic speculation and creative reconstruction. Come re-experience and re-imagine the Corkscrew Road. Meet at SW corner of Columbia and 6th Avenue where the tour will start. Park along one of the side streets - Nicola, Columbia, Pine, Dominion etc. The tour will conclude at the Royal Inland Hospital and 3rd Ave. Shoes with good grip recommended.

What is a Wild Church?$10

The Christian story starts in a garden with humanity in conversation with the Holy One. Somewhere far down that luxurious path through the woods, structures began to be built and "church" became walled in. Wild Church is our attempt to return to the natural world to find connection with God, Source, Creator, whatever you name that which is bigger than we are. We meet in "the wild" - in local urban and rural wild spaces - to explore and experience the spiritual and the sacred. We believe all of Creator's wisdom is available to us through creation, so we sit on the land to observe and listen. We close our gatherings sitting in circle to witness one another's experiences. In our sharing, we hear both the wisdom of the land and of one another. Our greatest hope is that we will build a community that learns to love the land and to consciously care for it and be in partnership with it. We recognize that being active on the land is important for many, so we also offer Wild Pilgrimage monthly, land-based activities to explore "wilder" places.

WINTER 2021 MULTIPLE SESSION COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

Beat the Winter Blues & Get Creative!

This introductory class welcomes anyone with a passion for creative writing, anyone who has always wanted to convey their feelings and thoughts in story form. It takes as inspiration Bertolt Brecht's assertion that "Art is not a mirror held up to reality but a hammer with which to shape it." Imagination and empathy can shape our world, and we desperately need more of both right now. We begin with some thoughts about the psychology of writing and consider the key elements of craft (image, voice, character, setting, story, and development and revision), before concluding with some tips on publishing. Offered in memory of Susan Duerden, who loved a good story.

Instructor: Dr. George Johnson

Min. 8 Max. 20

Dates: Thursdays February 4, 2021 – February 25, 2021 2:00PM-3:00PM

Location: Zoom Online

News and Views

The Literary Identity of Kamloops: People, Events, History, and Landscape in Works Set in Our Area.

February sessions, on Zoom, will present participants with an overview of novels, plays, creative non-fiction, and poetry – including works published in 2020 – that depict the Kamloops region. At the end of those sessions, students will select a few works to read for our April sessions, which, if circumstances permit, may be held outdoors.

This course will provide students with a comprehensive look at the themes and events that have intrigued writers in the 20th and 21st centuries.

Instructor: Ginny Ratsoy

Min. 8 Max. 20

Dates: Wednesdays February 17, 2021 – February 24, 2021 10AM-12PM

Location: Zoom online

Spirituality & Climate Change

Alongside the necessary conversations around our response to the climate crisis there is increasing desire amongst many for a conversation around spirituality in light of climate change. A growing awareness of climate change fosters, for many, unsettling thoughts and feelings. That said, spirit-guides have long wrestled with things-unsettled as a way of embracing a life-giving mystery which may not provide answers, but can provide encouragement along life's way.

Drawing on insights from the late Sallie McFague's Models of God for an Ecological, Nuclear Age (1987), a book which fundamentally altered my view of God, the world and the environment, we will connect as best I can with other sacred influences and teachings as we seek to ground ourselves in what feels like an unstable world in deep truths about our origins and our future.

Instructor: The Very Rev. Ken Gray

Min. 8 Max. 20

Dates: Tuesdays March 2, 2021 – March 9, 2021 1:30PM-3:00PM

Location: North Shore Community Centre- Oak/Willow Room

Filter Bubbles and Civic Engagement: Can we still talk to each other?$35

When so much of public life is enacted online, how can we best fulfill our responsibilities as citizens? Information flows in strange ways online, creating “filter bubbles,” in which we sometimes develop quite different realities from those who think differently than we do. In this context, how can we work together to improve our communities? What does civic engagement look like through the networked platforms of the internet?

Instructor: Shannon SmyrlMin. 10 Max. 30*Dates: Mondays & Wednesdays

From a Buddhist Perspective$25

Some of the most useful of the Buddha’s teachings are the Paramitas, or the six perfections. These include generosity, virtue, wisdom, patience, perseverance and honesty. Ani Gawa Khandro will offer 4 sessions on the Paramitas, explore their meaning, discuss their implications in the modern world and invite discussion and questions about the application and implications of their skills. She will also be happy to answer questions about Buddhism in general and some of her experiences as a Buddhist nun.

Instructor: Venerable Ani Gawa KhandroMin. 8 Max. 10*Dates: Fridays March 19, 2021- April 16, 2021 10AM-12PMLocation: North Shore Community Centre- Oak/Willow Room

Poetry and You & Me$25

Our relationship with poetry is very personal. Our reactions are emotional and cerebral, our tastes personal and not always easy to explain, even to ourselves. However, sharing can enrich our and our classmates' enjoyment and, discussion can deepen our understanding and appreciation. Why does that particular poem appeal? What does it even mean? How does the poet achieve that effect? Why are our tastes so eclectic? To begin the discussion, the first class will look at contrasting poems, traditional and modern, chosen simply because I keep returning to them. Please come prepared to share your opinions and your favourites.

Instructor: Mary SchmidMin. 8 Max. 20*Dates: Tuesdays April 6, 2021 – April 27, 2021 1:30PM-3:30PMLocation: North Shore Community Centre – Oak/Willow Room

The Literary Identity of Kamloops: An Examination of Two Works$15

This course will provide students with a close look at the themes and events that have intrigued two writers about Kamloops. In the two sessions in February, participants chose two works set in Kamloops for further discussion. These April sessions will focus on these works. You do NOT have to have attended the February sessions to enjoy these two focused sessions.

Instructor: Ginny RatsoyMin. 8 Max. 20*Dates: Wednesdays April 14, 2021 - April 21, 2021 10AM-12PMLocation: Zoom online

Lawn Bowling$15

The Kamloops Riverside Lawn Bowling Club will once again introduce the game of lawn bowling to KALS members. Lawn bowls is a low impact activity and a great way to stay healthy and have fun. It helps strengthen muscles as you walk with the extra weight of a bowling ball in your hands and you flex and stretch muscles to improve flexibility, mobility and core strength. It can improve a sedentary lifestyle as it helps your body better utilize oxygen and contributes to good blood circulation and blood pressure. It also involves concentration and enhances hand-eye coordination and precision skills. Physical activity relieves stress and improves your mood as you release endorphins, which trigger a positive feeling in your body. The simplicity of the game and the low-impact exercise it involves ensures it can be enjoyed by anyone, regardless of age, gender or physical condition.

Classes will be held on 4 days over 2 weeks at the Riverside Park facility next to Heritage House. Over the 4 sessions you will learn the basics of the game, participate in active lawn bowling, meet new people and try a new way to keep healthy and have fun. 8 Instructors are all certified, each has 3 or more years of teaching experience and will be in attendance throughout. Wear comfortable flat shoes. Bowling balls will be provided.

Instructor: Kamloops Lawn Bowling Club/Bruce ClaryMin. 10 Max. 12*Dates: Tuesdays & Thursdays May 4, 2021 – May 13, 2021 10AM-12PMLocation: Riverside Park Lawn Bowling Facility

The North Shore: From Fort to Town, 1843-1967$15

The North Shore of Kamloops is often forgotten or neglected in the history of the City. Yet, it is an important part of Kamloops which has many historical facets including the Hudson's Bay Company fort established in 1843; a settler among the Overlanders of 1862, William Fortune, who settled at Tranquille; the development of an agricultural estate known as B.C. Fruitlands; the settlement of Germans in Brocklehurst; the creation of the airport; and the formation of the Village of North Kamloops in 1946 which was a Town for a short time until 1967. These are just some of the topics that will be covered in a free-wheeling presentation by Ken Favrholt, historical geographer and former curator/archivist of the Kamloops Museum and Archives.

Instructor: Ken FavrholtMin. 8 Max. 20*Dates: Monday & Wednesday May 10, 2021 – May 12, 2021 10AM-12PMLocation: North Shore Community Centre- Oak/Willow Room

Late Spring Bird Migration$15

Building on basics, Tom will discuss the annual bird count, the Cornell Ornithology website and the habits and identification of late spring migratory birds in our region. Day 2 will be in the field, so dress for the weather. Bring binoculars if you have them.

Favrholdt, Ken	Ken Favrholdt is a freelance writer, historical geographer, and museologist. Born in Denmark, he emigrated to Vancouver with his family when he was four. He remembers when Vancouver was a sleepy town. Ken went to UBC where he earned a BA and then went to SFU to obtain a teaching certificate. He taught elementary school on the north coast for two years where he became immersed in Indigenous culture. He then moved to Kamloops for the position of assistant archivist at the Kamloops Museum. Following the retirement of Mary Balf he became Curator/Archivist and managed the museum for a decade. He later became museum coordinator of the Secwepemc Museum and Heritage Park. He returned to UBC to undertake his MA in Geography. Many other museum positions appeared on the horizon -- on the Sunshine Coast, Osoyoos, and in Alberta, at Donald and Claresholm. While there, he took up writing for Alberta History and the Canadian Cowboy Country magazine. He still writes monthly history articles for Kamloops This Week.
Frangiadakis, Sandra	Sandra Frangiadakis was the KFPC Food Action Lead from 2014 to 2020, in which capacity she helped develop and implement several community food action initiatives including the Gleaning Abundance Program and the Kamloops Community Seed Library. She is also a long-time gardener with a keen interest in permaculture, food forestry, and food preservation.
Garson, Fauve	Fauve Garson is a Kamloops Food Policy Council (KFPC) Board Director and 2nd year Masters of Environmental Sciences student at TRU. Her research investigates regional food security in Kamloops and is titled “More than just a Meal”. This research seeks to identify the inequalities present within our regional food systems. Fauve’s passion for meaningful intercultural experiences and anti-racism awareness has led to her extensive involvement in community social justice advocacy and social sciences research. Fauve plans to complete her thesis in the fall of 2021 and aspires to complete her PhD in Gender, Race, Sexuality, and Social Justice at UBC in the near future.
Giesbrecht, Marilyn	Marilyn Giesbrecht, Executive Financial Consultant, CFP, RRC, is proud to be associated with IG Private Wealth Management for over 23 years. During her time with IG, she has helped hundreds of families structure their income for a prosperous tax-efficient retirement, while also ensuring they transfer as much wealth as possible to the next generation. Marilyn works with a select group of high net worth clients and business owners, managing their wealth and implementing strategies to enhance their legacy. As a widow, she deeply understands the importance of planning for all situations, including the unexpected.

She has also published articles on third-age learning, small cities, and plays and novels set in British Columbia.
Schemenauer, Elma	Elma (Martens) Schemenauer is a first-generation child of Mennonite immigrants to Saskatchewan. Stories her Mennonite relatives told inspired her to write the 1940s-era novel, Consider the Sunflowers . It's about a Mennonite woman pursuing happiness with a charming but troubled man haunted by racism and an unsolved mystery from his past. A former teacher, Elma is the author of many published books. She and her husband lived in Toronto for 30-plus years before moving to Kamloops in 2006.
Schmid, Mary	Mary Schmid came to Kamloops "for a year" in 1971 and never left. She holds a Bachelor of Education from UBC and a Masters from UVic, and she focused her high school teaching on senior English. Having enjoyed volunteering, coaching, and a rewarding teaching career, Mary continues to enjoy teaching and sharing her love of the written word.

Sedgman, Dr. David	Dr. Sedgman graduated from the Western College of Veterinary Medicine in 1973 and he is still paying dues. David has worked with many species of animals over his career. After graduation, he spent three years in New Zealand in a large dairy cattle practice. On returning home he became a partner in the Shuswap Veterinary Clinic in Salmon Arm which eventually grew to a seven-veterinarian practice.
Sedgman, Elaine	Elaine Sedgman is bee-sotted with our wild native bees. She has taken numerous taxonomy workshops to learn how to identify them. She organized the Thompson Shuswap Master Gardeners (TSMG) Citizen Science bee surveys from 2017- 2019. Elaine also partnered with TRU botanist Dr. Lyn Baldwin to teach bee literacy to middle school students in Kamloops. She helped develop the “Common Bees of the Southern Interior of BC” and “Gardening for Pollinators” brochures for the TSMG. She wrote and illustrated the book, A Bee Named Bob when all she could find in our library system were books on honey bees.
Smyrl, Shannon	Shannon Smyrl is a faculty member in the Department of Journalism, Communication and New Media at Thompson Rivers University. Before arriving at TRU 12 years ago, Shannon completed a PhD at Queen’s University and then spent a number of years enjoying the beaches of New Zealand. Her research and teaching interests focus around questions of civic engagement and community identification, both in the areas of intercultural communication and new media studies. She is currently wondering a lot about how we can improve media literacy so we can have more functional community debate.
